

ABSTRACT

1           A method of processing a substrate by first
2     processing the diamond surface with a laser operating at 3     a first wavelength, and then by processing the diamond
4     surface with a laser operating at a second wavelength.